Warning

- Stop using the vacuum pump if pain occurs.
- Do not use under the influence of alcohol or drugs, since it may impair the user's judgment and increase the risk of injury to the penis.
- Do not use if you have sickle cell disease, have a history of prolonged erections, or you are taking large quantities of aspirin or other blood thinners, as these conditions increase the risk of bruising and hematoma.
- Use of the device may bruise or rupture the blood vessels within the penis or scrotum, resulting in petechiae, hemorrhage, or the formation of a hematoma.
- Use of the device may aggravate already existing conditions such as Peyronie's disease (the formation of hardened tissue in the penis that causes pain, curvature, and distortion, usually during erection); priapism (persistent, usually painful erection of the penis as a consequence of disease and not related to sexual arousal); and urethral strictures (urethral stricture is an area of hardened tissue which narrows the urethra, sometimes making it difficult to urinate).

- Misuse of the vacuum pump could injure the penis.
- If you have symptoms of erectile dysfunction, i.e., inability to achieve an erection that is sufficient for sexual intercourse, consult your physician prior to using this device to avoid a potentially harmful delay in diagnosing any of the most common causes of this condition, such as diabetes, multiple sclerosis, cirrhosis of the liver, chronic renal failure, or alcoholism.
- Do not use the device if you have decreased sensation of pain in the area of the penis.
- Do not use the device if you have decreased hand strength because this may make removing the device difficult.
